Frequently Asked Questions

Where and when are the sessions?

Sessions will run out of one of six delivery sites across Thames Valley on a Saturday. Group members may have to travel to one of two central delivery sites in Bicester or Reading. Sessions will either be morning, or afternoons.

How large are the groups?

Groups consist of a minimum of 4 and a maximum of 10 participants. Group members are supported throughout the whole process the Facilitators.

Because they will have met them once beforehand, they will have the opportunity to discuss any concerns that they may have about this.

Do you provide travel assistance?

Group members will be supported to attend by the programmes team, who give travel warrants for buses/trains.

What happens if group members know someone else on the group?

In the main, it depends on the circumstances of how the individuals know each other, and how comfortable they feel about having someone from their social circle in the group.

A case-by-case decision will be made by the Treatment Manager. As a general expectation, close relatives (e.g. siblings, parents) and spouses are not permitted on the same group.

Frequently Asked Questions

How often do they run?

Each cycle of PRP takes 12 weeks, and there will be a start date approximately every two months, as start dates will be staggered for the morning and afternoon groups.

How much writing is there?

Group members can write as much as they want to, but if reading/writing are difficult, then help is always provided by one of the Facilitators, e.g. in explaining trickier words, or in making notes on worksheets

What happens if a group member misses a sessions?

To avoid the detrimental impact on group members' learning and understanding, they should attend every session. If for any reason, they are unable to attend any session, a catch up will be provided prior to the next session. If a group member misses more than two sessions during the course of the programme they may not be able to complete the programme.

What is the group like?

Each group session has a range of tasks and approaches to achieve the learning; these vary from discussions, small group exercises, pair work, written work and watching video clips.

Active participation is expected from everyone, but how a group member shows they are engaged can vary for different people.
